

The low back W5 is a reclined seat shell for use in vehicles which require a low driving position. The W5 is supplied in a single skin form, therefore it must have special bespoke brackets made in order to rigidly fit it to various vehicles. The seat has an interim back angle between a typical formula car and saloon car. Two types of laminate are available; W5 GRP, or the W5 Carbon/GRP with a cosmetic layer of carbon on the front surface. A Dinamica suede panel set is an option with the W5. The suede panels are thin and light and can be specially ordered to be removable. Three seat belt harness holes are included as standard.
